Overview

We are proud to announce our involvement in the award-winning Delta Sky Club project.

This exceptional project was honored with the CISCA Construction of Excellence Award in the category of Civic Project – Below 50,000 SF, recognizing the outstanding craftsmanship, coordination, and execution required to bring this complex vision to life.

Nelson AMD supplied a highly customized NuvoPanel-TSP Xpresiv Series ceiling assembly featuring a radiused, perforated, acoustic, colored stainless steel finish — a sophisticated solution designed to meet both the aesthetic and performance demands of the space.

A project of this caliber requires exceptional installation expertise, and Golder Inc delivered phenomenal work throughout every phase of the project. Their highly skilled team executed this intricate ceiling system with precision, professionalism, and attention to detail, contributing significantly to the project's success and award-winning recognition.

We are honored to have collaborated on such a distinguished architectural achievement and extend our congratulations to everyone involved in bringing this remarkable space to life.
