Ceilings: NuvoPanel-CC, custom-curved ceiling panels

Nelson was approached by the consultants to develop a custom-curved ceiling designed to suit a specific radius. The panels were curved, perforated and insulated with Soundtex Acoustic insulation. Nelson also provided the custom carrier channels and curved perimeter trim components.

System Description

A highly-engineered custom-curved ceiling system designed to suit a specific radius not traditionally available in standard metal ceiling assemblies. The curves were designed to match a specific radius and the support structure, also an AMD design, was manufactured to fit within that same radius while holding the curved ceiling panels exactly in place.
